Details

The Weldon Centre photographs is a collection of around 100 colour snapshots taken by a former youth worker at the Weldon Centre in 1981. (The Weldon Centre was the new name for the Church of England Children's Homes in Burwood.) These photographs have the names of children and workers written on the back. The photographs were donated in 2012 to the National Orphanage Museum, run by the Care Leavers of Australia Network (CLAN).
