

Legacy Club of South Australia and Broken Hill

1928 –

Other Names: • Legacy Club of Adelaide Inc

URL: <http://www.legacy.com.au/adelaide/AdelaideLegacy>

Details

---

The Legacy Club of South Australia and Broken Hill, established in 1928, was part of a national network of autonomous clubs that encouraged mutual self-help among ex-servicemen and provided care and support to the families of deceased ex-servicemen. Following the second World War, the Adelaide Legacy Club opened Wentworth House and Waverley House to provide accommodation for the children of deceased servicemen who were attending schools and undertaking apprenticeships in the city. The organisation was formerly known as the Legacy Club of Adelaide Inc.

More info

---

Related Entries

Ran

- Wentworth House \(1945 - 1960?\)
- Waverley House \(1946 - 1964\)
Date: 1945 - 1964
- Gurney Street Legacy Hostels \(1964 - c. 1967\)

Resources

- Dickey, Brian, The Religion of Legacy: "to visit orphans and widows in their affliction", Lucas: an Evangelical History Review, 1997 - 1998

Records

---

Records held by other organisations

- Records of the Legacy Club of Adelaide Inc. \(1941? - 1979?\)

---

You can view this page online by visiting <https://findconnect.efront.digital/entity/legacy-club-of-adelaide-inc/>