

Annesfield

1852 – 1871

- Other Names:
- Annesfield Aboriginal School
 - Annesfield Native Institution
 - Albany School for Aboriginal Children
 - Albany Native School

Details

Annesfield, in Albany, was founded as a residential school for Aboriginal children in 1852 by Mr and Mrs Camfield. The first children had been transferred from the Fremantle Native School. The children who were living in Annesfield when it closed in 1871 were transferred to Bishop Hale's Institution for Native and Half-Caste Children in Perth.

In 1852 Mr Camfield was Government Resident at Albany. Mrs Camfield ran the school.

Children from Annesfield in Albany were sent to Perth when Annesfield closed in 1871. The 'Guide to Aboriginal Institutions' says that the students were transferred to the Perth Protestant Orphanage but Peterkin, in 'Noisy Mansions' said they were sent to a Native School in Perth and from there to Middle Swan in 1888.

More info

Chronology

- Annesfield (1852 – 1871)
 - Bishop Hale's Institution for Native and Half-Caste Children (1871 - 1888)

Related Entries

Related Organisations

- Fremantle Native School \(1842 - 1851\)
The first children at Annesfield had been transferred from the Fremantle Native School.
Date: 1852 -

Resources

- Diocesan Church Society, The Inquirer & Commercial News, 10 May 1871