Details

The Picture South Perth Photograph Collection is an online collection of digitised historic images dating from the 1870s to the 2000s. It was created by the City of South Perth and as at 2015 the collection has over 1500 images. The collection includes photos of Ngal-a Mothercraft Home and Training Centre Inc and Clontarf in operation and of the sites in later years. There is also an image of the selected site for South Perth Community Centre Hospital.

Access Conditions

The collection is available online. The rights to use an image varies for each photo, please check the information below the specific image for any permissions or copyrights.
